

Some thoughts on Mother's Day

- Denise To (L7) -

13th May 2008

1) My mum

Elegant, smart, beautiful. If one person could be fitted into these three descriptions, then it must be my dear mum. My mum totally understands me. When I cry, she offers me comfort; when I am happy, she shares my joy. We do a lot of things together and mum always knows what's on my mind. Mum and I have a lot in common and she treats me very nicely, like always buying clothes and books for me. She supports me in things I do and cares about me every single day, naturally more so when I am sick. She walks through life with me together and I am most proud of her.

2) Shopping

My mum has real good taste in clothes and bags, and she always chooses the right things for me when we go shopping together. Shopping is the time when we share secrets, talk about fashion and most of all, buy stuff. We're not exactly shopaholics, but we do love shopping. Shopping makes one feel relaxed, and when shopping with mum, I always feel a breeze of happiness after buying things we both love.

3) Cooking

My mum is also quite a nice cook. She cooks special food for us every week, and they are very delicious, especially sweet & sour pork and chicken rice. I seldom cook for her, but we always spend time cooking together. We usually bake cookies and cakes, or make jellies. It is really fun cooking together with mum because with her in the kitchen there's never a mess! Things usually go well except when I mess up. But overall speaking I love cooking with mum.

4) A woman's favourite things

My mum likes a lot of things. She enjoys reading books, listening to Chinese songs and classical music. She is into karaoke, which is what I like too. Other activities include shopping and her favourite colour is purple, which is also mine. However, I think mum's favourite pastime must be having a nap or stealing time for a quiet afternoon alone because she works very hard and needs more rest. Her favourite people would, and should probably be me, my elder brother and my dad because we all love her.

5) Why my mum is special

My mum is special, like a shining star in my life. She teaches me a lot of things, and helps me differentiate right from wrong. She takes good care of me, and through her, I have learnt how to be an elegant and polite young lady. My mum knows my real needs and I will never disobey her. She is always the first person I see when I open my eyes in the morning, and most willing to listen to my secrets. I will set mum as my role model. I love you, mum.