My Trip in Sapporo

-Silky Ho (L3) -

23rd July 2008

This summer holiday, my maternal grandparents, my mum and I went to Sapporo in Hokkaido (Japan) on 12th July. We went there by airplane. After arriving at the new Chitose Airport, we went shopping at Pole Town where I bought a "Lolita" dress. Then we went to TV-Tower where there were lots of things to buy too.

The next day, we went to Shirol House to learn about the chocolate high tea in the English Garden there.

Koibito Park's Tudor factory and we had

On the third day, we went to the Funano which is a big farm where we saw beds of lavender and a lot of other colourful flowers, forming a picture like a beautiful rainbow. There on the farm we ate lavender ice-cream and drove on the four-wheel drive with grandpa. It was exciting and fast.

On the fourth day, I went to Antique Museum where boxes in one and a half

Otaru to make "DIY" music box at the my mother and I made two music hours.

On last day, we went to the Noporivetsu. There is a volcano and some lava flowing out. We tried to look for bears, foxes... but we could not find any. After that, we went on to the Jigokundani Bear Park and the bear could say "ha" to me. It was smart.

After five fun and enjoyable days in Sapporo, we had to return to Hong Kong. I had such a great time that I did not want to leave because I love Hokkaido!
